ART. 5 TASTING AND EVALUATION OF THE WINE

The tasting is the responsibility of the technical commission under the direction of the independent chief editors of VINUM. The technical commission supports the organisation of the tasting, assembles the tasting jury, contributes to the smooth running of the competition and monitors its implementation in accordance with the regulations. The tasting jury consists exclusively of nationally and internationally recognised, professionally qualified wine experts from the various sectors such as press, trade, production, consumption and gastronomy/HoReCA. The jury experts will be officially communicated.

Terms and conditions of participation

All properly registered wines will be tasted individually according to the defined category. The degustation will take place blindly, under preservation of anonymity. The evaluation of the wines occurs in the form of points - according to the 100-point rating system - and a short commentary note. The best 20 wines in each category (final wines) are tasted in an additional round (final round) by a reduced panel of experts. By means of this final control tasting, the final podium positions per category as well as the special prizes are finally determined. In the case of differences in the scores between the jury tasting and the final tasting, the higher score will be considered as the final score. The decisions of the panel of experts are non-appealable.
